Wii animal crossing cheats

Looking for cheats or other secrets for the Wii's Animal Crossing: City Folk? Check out our cheats section below to find everything you need! UnverifiedOn Christmas Eve Jingles comes to town and I have heard on your boards and site that players may only trick him 3 times. I been able to trick him fourteen (14) times.The trick is to get as many of these things as possible prior to when he gets there:ShirtsFace accessories such as Masks, glasses, and eye patchesHead gear such as helmets, wigs, and hatsMake sure never to have the same thing on when you go and find him. The items you use must be all new (never used before) items. Good luck and I hope this helps.Once you pay off your final mortgage, you get a flag pole in front of your house like the one near the gate.If you donate money to the town fund, you'll get the following rewards:Bridge - 200,000Fountain - 500,000 Windmill/Lighthouse - 1,000,000 To keep your self safe from bees, try opening your gate to visitors. You should be able to shake all your trees without any bees coming out to sting you. Follow the steps below to clone any item in the game. Basically, anything you can drop on the ground can be cloned. This requires an online connection and access to a friend's town, not to mention a tolerant friend!1 // Go to a friend's town and bring what you want to clone in your pockets.2 // Drop what you want to clone, and then pick it back up. 3 // Have your friend save the session. Drop the same object once again. 4 // Go to the gate and ask to go home. When Copper (the dog on the right) says "Well then , " reset your Wii or press home and exit the game. 5 // When you restart your game, check your pockets -- your cloned item(s) should be there AND on the ground in your friend's town. Head to your friend's town and collect the cloned goods -- or leave them for your patient pal. Visit your town on the 4th of July with a Wii Connect 24 connection for a free Hotdog Hat from Nintendo (via mail).Check in with Tortimer on Midsummer's Day, June 21, to get an Espresso Maker.If you have a gyroid with you and you go to the museum cafe (downstairs), talk to Brewster. He'll offer to store your gyroid and any additional ones you bring him (excluding duplicates).Send a letter to a town resident with your native fruit (or a coconut) attached and they may send you a letter with a different sort of fruit attached. This fruit is worth more than your native fruit (500 Bells). Here are the many types of fruit: Apples, Oranges, Peaches, Cherries, Pears and Coconuts. Make sure to plant your new fruit in a clear area and don't trample it! Note: Coconuts need to be planted in the green at the edge of the ocean.Every Saturday evening, from 8:00 - 12:00, KK Slider comes to the Museum's coffee shop. You may request the following songs from him and he'll give them to you take home and play on your device of choice. Funk To the Edge Two Days AgoShaking trees takes way too much time -- but if you have an axe, you only need to hit the tree once to make its contents fall. Don't give it more than this love tap or you'll chop it down!!If you are looking for Redd invites, choose "No" when animals randomly ask you, "Have you ever heard of Redd's shop in the city?"Send a letter reading "Will you be my Valentine" to a town animal and you'll receive a Chocolate Heart Candy Box item on Valentine's Day (February 14). Hot Chocolate is on tap at the Roost as well!!The present balloons that you can shoot down with your slingshot come every time the clock reads "5" in the second minute digit during the hours of 10 a.m. and 3 p.m. (10:05, 10:15, 10:25 etc.). That means there's a total of 12 chances to hit a balloon every day. The best vantage point is the northern side of you town. You can actually control the balloon with your running movement. You may not be able to spawn balloons if you haunt the northern area, so run up there when you see one. After hitting 8 balloons, one will randomly contain the Golden Slingshot, which fires 3 pellets.First, you'll need a Golden Shovel. To get this, bury a spare shovel in the ground for a day and dig it up. With the Golden Shovel, you can bury money and it will grow into a tree. Shake this tree and moneybags will fall from it like fruit. You can bury an enormous amount of money by removing it from your wallet (up to 30,000 Bells) and it will triple on the tree. Be sure to take care of the sapling, watering it and placing it away from other objects. In four days or so, it will become a full tree.After Nook has upgraded his store to Nookington's, he'll occasionally ask you about it, about once a month. Your answers can cause him to revert the store to a previous model. Give the answers listed below for the desired store:"Variety" - Nookington's "Balance" - Nookway "Hours" - Nook 'n' Go "Sorry, no" - Nook's CrannyThose dig spots around your burg may turn up fossils. On this day you'll find dig spots around town that you can use your shovel to unearth. Inside you'll find either candy or foil. You can take the foil to a large yellow rabbit that appears outside Town Hall and exchange it for Egg Series furniture. This furniture sells for quite a bit of Bells if you're not into its eggy style.You must travel to other players' towns via Wi-Fi to get certain items. Different versions of the game in different regions (North America, Japan and Europe) have different holidays and - consequently - different items. Talk to Tortimer for your gift on each holiday. It's time to make some pen pals!Girl's Day in Japan - March 3 Boy's Day in Japan - May 5 Midsummer's Day in Europe - June 21 Starcrossed Day in Japan - July 7 Tsukimi in Japan - September or October Autumn Moon in Europe - September or October Naughty-or-Nice Day in Europe - December 5 Midwinter's Day in Europe - December 21Note: The North American Region holidays have been excluded from this list.Jack, a pumpkin-headed creature will appear in your town on Halloween (October 31, any year). Unfortunately, all of the animals in your village will be sporting the same orange squash helmet as Jack, so tracking him down for a treat can be tricky. Unlike the animals, Jack won't follow you when your near. Before you search for him, be sure to have some candy ready. Candy can be found in different ways; one place to find it is in eggs on Bunny Day (in March). When you talk to Jack, you may exchange candy for pieces of the Spooky furniture set. You may repeat these steps for more furniture as long as you have candy, so stock up!At the end of every November, a Harvest Festival occurs in your town on Thanksgiving Day (November 27, 2008; November 26, 2009 etc.). On this day, Tortimer, the mayor, will appear by the fountain to offer you a fork and knife. Search the town for Franklin the Turkey, who hides behind trees and houses, and give him the fork and knife. He'll reward you with a piece of the Harvest furniture set. You may repeat these steps for more furniture, beginning with a visit to Tortimer.Head to the city after 8 p.m. and you may just come across a surprise. Head to the right to where the cones are and one may be moved aside at random. Enter the tunnel and you'll come across Resetti himself in his den of wonders. He'll yell at you as usual and give you a Silver Shovel (which will occasionally double your money when you use it on Money Stones). Between 8:00 p.m. and 1:00 a.m. each Christmas Eve (that's December 24th for you Festivus followers) a reindeer named Jingle will appear in your town. You can get the Jingle Series items from him. He'll only recognize you by your threads, and if you continue to change your shirt and accessories, you can go back for more -- three times total (so choose wisely!).Additions by The nameless show: SkullThe fish listed below are some great catches to go for during the winter months for massive amounts of Bells.Red Snapper - 3,000 BellsString Fish - 15,000 BellsTuna - 7,000 BellsIf you want to change the face of your Mii-based character in Animal Crossing, consider changing your face on the dedicated Mii Channel outside of the game. If you happen to find Elegant Mushrooms, you're in luck, because those valuable items are worth a shocking 10,000 Bells a piece.Just like in previous Animal Crossing games, there will be a random rock in your town each day that, when found, will give you increasing amounts of Bells. The more you hit it with your equipped shovel, the more Bells you will get. If you want to hit the rock more and more, try digging holes on either side of the rock, as well as one behind you, leaving you trapped between the rock and a uhh ... hole place. This makes it so you don't recoil after hitting the rock, allowing you to button mash the thing until you are swimming in bells.Additions by AmiDeposit the amounts of money listed below into the in-game bank to unlock the corresponding feature.10,000 Bell Deposit - Shopping Card100,000 Bell Deposit - Box of TissuesVIP Status (Huge Deposit) - Gold CardWhen you spend money in Tom Nook's store, you earn a point for every 100 Bells you spend. A voice will talk to you when you arrive -- he's always near water. Follow its directions until you find the source of the voice, which is a ghost named Wisp. He tells you that he lost his lamp and needs you to find it (for a pretty reward, of course!) You should then meet him in the attic of your house once the lamp is found. For doing this for him, he'll grant you one wish. You can ask him to clear your town of weeds, clear your town of cockroaches, or give you a randomized item.You may find the lamp before Wisp appears as you go about your normal wheelings and dealings. If so, you'll know he'll appear somewhere that night to claim it.Corrections by Yetta.In order to change the color of your shoes, visit Kicks in the City. Ask him to shine your shoes. Depending on the color of your character's hair (which can be changed by using Shampooole), your shoes will be colored identically.If you've got some stuff you don't want, like ugly furniture or shirts, you can attach it to a letter and send the letter to another resident of your town. Town residents will almost always respond with a letter of their own and a different item attached.
