1. Tell me about yourself?
It seems like an easy interview question. It even sounds "fun" and often elicits a smile from the interviewer. But it's not.
Warning: When the hiring manager really wants to know how you are and why, you're the best person to answer this question.
Here you answer the question, tell them what you've done in your previous jobs, and how you are qualified for the job you are applying for.

25. Are you willing to relocate?
Relocation is usually inevitable and almost always a condition of employment. This is completely up to you.
Be honest, but you should probe the interviewer for more details. Maybe the office location you will be working at is planned to be moved in the next two years and that is the reason for this question.
Find out the details and make an informed decision.

2. Where do you see yourself in five years' time
Explain how you'd like your career to progress (e.g. 'I'd like to progress to a Senior Software Engineer' or 'I see myself being a team leader...').
If you're going for a more senior position, explain how you'd be looking to move the company forward. Have a look at their business strategy or corporate objectives before the interview, and explain how you can help in achieving them.
