Home » Tech Tips » Android » How to Lock Apps with Password or Pattern on Android? Our phones contain personal information and it's always good to have an extra layer of protection for sensitive data. Although the screen lock protects you to a certain extent, you may feel uncomfortable handing your phone to someone. In such situations, you can lock sensitive apps like banking apps with a password to protect them. It is also possible to protect other applications such as messages, photos and videos. In this article, we explain the different ways to lock apps with a password on Android. Password Protecting Applications and Files/Folders Remember that protecting an entire application is different from setting a password for multiple files/folders. If you want to password protect files, folders, photos and videos on Android, read our article on password protecting files and folders on Android. In this article, we will focus on how to lock the entire application with an access password. Also, don't confuse this article with pinning apps to the screen of Android phones. Screen pinning allows you to always leave the app open and ask for a password when you try to close the app. What we are discussing in this article is the exact opposite of password/pattern protection for apps once opened. Lock apps with a password using app settings The best way to lock apps on Android is to enable fingerprint lock. Some apps also support a PIN (Personal Identification Number) for protection. Once set up, the app will ask you to confirm your fingerprint or PIN each time you open it. For example, WhatsApp is a popular messaging app that offers an additional fingerprint locking option. You can enable this feature in the Android app under Settings > Account > Privacy > Fingerprint Lock. The website allows you to register your fingerprint and set other preferences, such as B. the lock time and the content shown in notifications. Every time you open WhatsApp, you have to tap on the fingerprint reader depending on the setting. It's like that for almost everyoneand credit card apps have this feature. Fingerprint lock for WhatsApp phones without home button will show Screen lock option which allows you to enable facial recognition for protection. Whether you lock with your fingerprint or Face ID, you can still reply to messages on the notification screen or receive calls when the app is locked. Most apps don't provide protection with Face ID, fingerprints, or personal identification numbers every time you open the app. In addition, files, folders, photos and videos in the application must be protected separately. If you're looking for a one-stop solution to lock everything with a password or pattern, there are various third-party apps available for that. 1. AppLock This is the best app to lock other apps and hide photos. First, install it from Google Play and launch the app on your phone. It will ask you to set up an unlock gesture, accept the agreement, and grant the necessary permissions to access your files. The best thing about AppLock is that it automatically locks your apps, photos, videos and other important things based on its recommendations. However, you can always add more items and block them. On the home page, you'll see a list of apps on your phone and their status, whether they're protected or not. A lock symbol in front of an item indicates that it is protected. This means that the lock pattern must be entered to unlock the item. You can tap on any item to change its status. For example, Android's default "Files" folder is not protected by AppLock. You can find it on the AppLock home page and change its status to protected. AppLock AppLock for Android works with apps, files, folders, photos, videos and more. With AppLock, you can protect the entire "Photos" folder and even the Camera app. AppLocker is another popular app that password protects everything on your Android phone. It has a fake cover where someone opens the locked app instead of showing itA normal lock screen will show a screen that makes the user think the app has crashed. If you long press the "OK" button, AppLocker will show the lock screen and pressing the "OK" button will return you to the main screen. Another unique feature of AppLocker is "Intruder Selfie" which, when enabled, takes pictures of intruders trying to open locked objects multiple times. It takes a photo for wrong unlock attempts and you can set the number of wrong attempts after which a photo should be taken. AppLocker Android app If you run AppLocker after installing it, you will be prompted to set a pattern for unlocking items on your phone. The app asks you to subscribe to the pro version, but you can cancel the message and choose the free version, which is enough to block the app. After accepting the User Agreement and granting all required permissions, you'll see a list of blocked and unblocked apps based on the recommendation. You can lock or unlock apps in the list with just one tap. There's also a toggle button in the top-right corner to enable or disable the entire AppLocker app, which is handy for quickly enabling or disabling the app. 3. Lock Master Lock Master is an app lock app with advanced features that can cool down your device, phone speed booster and battery saver. It can cool down your device, remove duplicate files, clean WhatsApp and keep your WiFi safe. It provides storage space where you can hide your photos and videos and clone apps. In addition to the intruder's selfie, Lock Master can hide social media accounts such as Facebook, Twitter, and LinkedIn. Lock Master Android App Home Once the installation is complete, launch Lock Master to set up the template and grant all necessary permissions. In the upper right corner you can access different topics. The password type can be changed in the settings menu, accessible via the three horizontal lines in the top left corner. Main page "Castle master"it shows the list of blocked and unblocked apps where you can change the status with one touch. The Feature Suggestions section gives you access to additional app features. Vault and additional features are available at the top of the page. Tags: GooglePasswordProtect If you want to hide important or personal information on your Android phone, you need to set a password, which I believe most users already do. But what if you need to give your phone to someone else for work, and that person is looking for other apps on your device without your permission? Then you can lock some apps to stop such intruders. Here I will tell you how to add a password lock to apps on Android phone. Also read | 3 ways to find out who tried to unlock your phone. Ways to add a password/fingerprint lock to the app. There are mainly two methods to add a password lock to an app. You can block individual apps using third-party apps that are designed specifically for this purpose and also offer additional features. Below are some apps you can use to block apps.1. AppLock The most popular and user-friendly Android app locker is AppLock. There are many apps with the same name, but you can check the developer name and the large number of downloads to confirm this app. It can be downloaded for free from the Google Play Store link we have provided here. How to use this app: 1. First download AppLock on your phone or follow the link below. Download AppLock2. Now open the app and set the app lock pattern when prompted. Make sure it's not the same one you use to lock your phone. 3. Tap "Agree and Launch", then allow AppLock to "Use Access" and "Browse Other Apps" when prompted. You will now see a list of all the apps installed on your phone. Select the app you want to lock with the password you created in AppLock and tap the lock icon. That's it.You will now receive a notification that the app has been successfully blocked. Try to open this app for confirmation and it will ask for the set pattern or password. We like AppLock because it offers several other features in addition to App Lock, such as: B. Cleaner and Booster to free up storage space and improve phone performance. Norton App Lock Norton App Lock is another useful tool to protect apps and thus private files on your phone. The app is completely free and supports Android 4.1 or later. To use Norton app blocker on Android: 1. Go to the Play Store to download and install AppLock-Fingerprint on your Android phone. Or use the link below. Download2. Open the app and choose an unlock pattern or enter a password. When asked about accessibility, tap Set and give it access permissions. Then tap Choose Google Account and confirm your email address. Grant the "Allow viewing in other apps" permission by toggling the switch. 6. Now on the Apps page, select the yellow padlock icon in the upper right corner, then select the padlock next to the apps you want to set up. security. If the apps are locked, you can check them by opening them and those apps will ask you for the password you created earlier. 3. AppLock - FingerprintAppLock - Fingerprint is another good app that can lock apps with password, pattern and even fingerprint. You can lock apps like facebook, whatsapp, gallery with password or fingerprint to keep your data from being shared with anyone. The app also offers a feature to catch intruders trying to hack your phone by taking a picture. How the app works: 1. Go to Play Store Download and install AppLock-Fingerprint on your Android phone. Or use the link below. Download2. Once installed, when you open the app, you will be asked to set a master PIN that will be used to unlock the app. You will also be asked to use your phone's fingerprint lock.3. Now the app will ask for "Use access" and "View via" permissions.programs. Turn on the switches when prompted, then return to the app. On the Applications tab you can see installed applications. Select the apps you want to block, then tap the "+" icon to add those apps to the blocked apps list. Your apps will now be locked and you can verify them by opening the apps and asking for a PIN or fingerprint.4. Screen pinning Android phones have a screen pinning feature that allows you to lock your phone's screen to a specific application. So if you hand your phone to someone and that person tries to log out of this app, they can't and your phone will be locked. To enable screen pinning on your phone: 1. Open Settings, go to Security and tap Advanced. Now scroll down to the pinning screen. (On older Android phones, these are screen lock and security settings). 2. Then turn on the lock screen switch. Now open the app that you want to pin to your home screen. Open the app switcher or the recent apps screen. On the recent app card, tap the appropriate app icon. Now click on the Pin option. That's all! Your phone will now be locked for this app. Check out our guide on how to lock Android smartphones with just one app for more information. You can lock this folder with a password, PIN, or even a fingerprint. You can access the secure folder or hide apps from the app screen from the home screen settings. So, if one of the apps contains your private data that you don't want others to see, here's how you can hide it in Secure Folder on Samsung phones: press and hold anywhere on the home screen and open the home screen settings. 2. Then scroll down and in settings you will see an option to "Hide Apps". Click Hide Apps, and then select the apps you want to hide.click Done. that's all! These apps will now also be hidden from the Home screen and Apps screen. You can only access them as well as view them at any time by following the same steps as above. As you can see, there are several ways to add a password lock to apps on your Android phone. If you have a secure folder or option to hide files in your phone settings, use it. Otherwise, we recommend using third-party apps as they may contain additional features. More tips and advice can be found here!
